The importance of balance

Ahrend Four_Two: the perfect balance between design and function. But also: the right balance between price and quality. All Four_Two models prove that high quality can go together with a very reasonable price. It is a business concept that suits Ahrend Four_Two: versatile, ingenious and extremely practical.

Job satisfaction for two... three...

A bench desk for many ways to work alone or together is also part of the Ahrend Four_Two 4 leg line. To quickly switch from concentration to communication, from individual work to discussions with one or more colleagues. Efficiency translated into job satisfaction and more streamlined work processes.

Totally logical

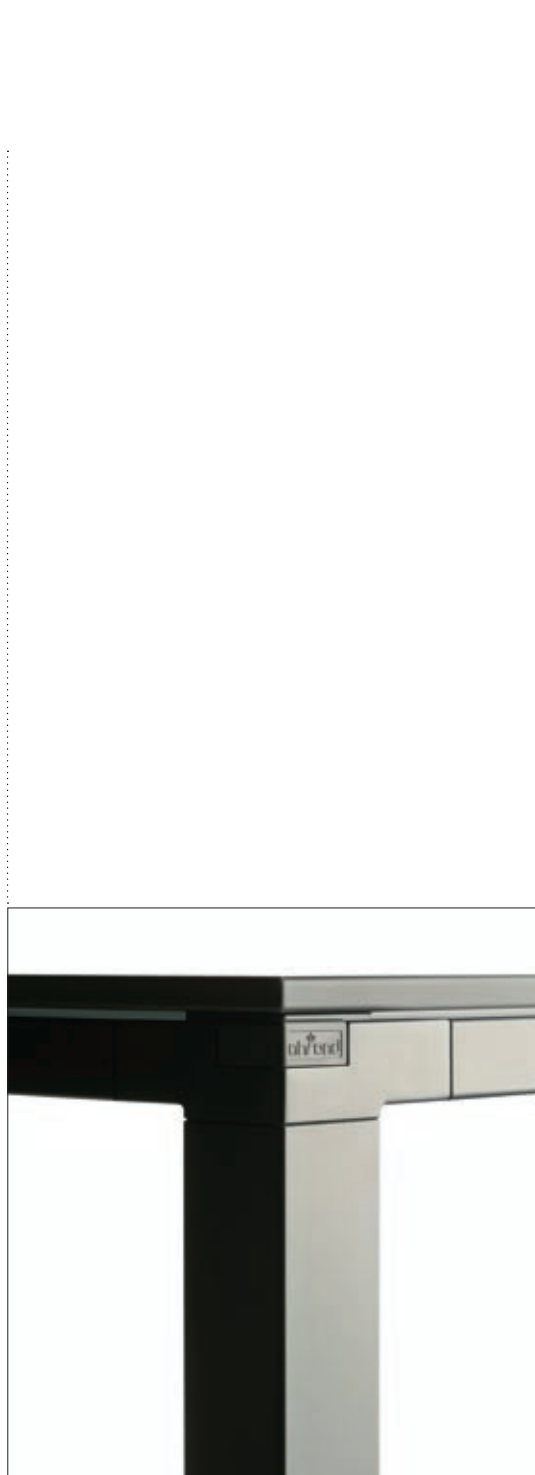

Small meetings, large meetings, Ahrend Four_Two tables are always compatible. Their functionality ensures that any discussions, whether on tables, desks or bench desks will always end in a logical conclusion: Ahrend Four_Two is the solution.

Perfect match

It goes without saying that Ahrend Four_Two tables work perfectly with fixed and mobile pedestals, tambour and sliding door cabinets, acoustic and other panels or screens, and room dividers in the Ahrend programme. Accessories such as CPU holders, organisation rails and flip-top cabletrays are also easily integrated.

Every detail guaranteed

Ahrend Four_Two is available in all Ahrend colours. And in a wide variety of worktops. In summary, you can be assured that everything will be exactly as you want it to be.

Ahrend Four_Two has a myriad of options for cable management, from a simple cabletray or box to an extensive cabling system

Variable height – easy to adjust manually or electrically

Semi-transparent plastic or fabric panels for combining with worktop or organisation rail
