Doing our bit...

We take our environmental responsibility very seriously, as it constitutes an ever increasing significant part of our every day practise. We work continuously in our development, manufacturing and business operations to provide the most environmentally conscious procedures possible; we care deeply about the world in which we live and work.

The Allgood Group recognises that responsibility to the environment goes above and beyond statutory regulatory requirements. Our priorities are to reduce our environmental impact, continually improve our environmental performance, and to encourage our customers, suppliers and business associates to do the same.

Building these values into our business strategy and operating methods means they have become an integral and fundamental part of what we do each and every day. This not only allows us to deliver on our duty of care for future generations; it also makes sound commercial sense.

Co-workers are our most valuable resource

We actively encourage employee day-to-day actions to reduce waste & energy efficiency

Tried and tested.

Voluntary ISO 14001 Certification

Allgood plc is proud to hold ISO 14001 certification following independent assessment of its environmental management system by the British Standards Institution (BSI). The standards are designed to help organisations such as ours do the following:

- Minimise the negative effects of our operations on the environment
- Comply with environmental laws and regulations
- Continually improve our environmental performance with regards to our activities, products and services

ISO 14001 accreditation is a voluntary, internationally recognised environmental management system standard. We chose to achieve this accreditation, requiring that we monitor and measure our environmental performance by introducing an environmental policy, planning and implementing environmental objectives, monitoring environmental systems and reducing waste energy.

We introduced an environmental management system to accomplish these goals. The benefits of our system include:

- Reductions in waste management costs
- Savings in energy consumption
- Savings on raw materials
- Improved resource efficiency
- Lower costs all round

Embracing the principles of the standard has allowed Allgood management to integrate long-held environmental policies into daily working procedures to ensure we meet our objectives using a systematic approach.

Turning off the lights is only the start...

We're rolling out a programme of installing more energy efficient light source solutions
throughout the business

Contributing to positive developments

We ensure our supply chain is committed to sustainability

Working with the Carbon Trust

In our quest to reduce our environmental impact, the Allgood Group undertook a full audit of our processes and operations in conjunction with the Carbon Trust. The Board sought advice and has identified and produced targets of reduction as follows:

- Energy and water usage
- Packaging usage in the warehouse
- Paper and print cartridge usage and recycling
- Quantity and type of cleaning materials used - must be environmentally friendly
- Staff travel

We are proud of our work so far and of our sound environmental record; however, we are always striving to be better. Care of the environment continues to be a core priority for Allgood: it's good for the planet, and it's good for business.

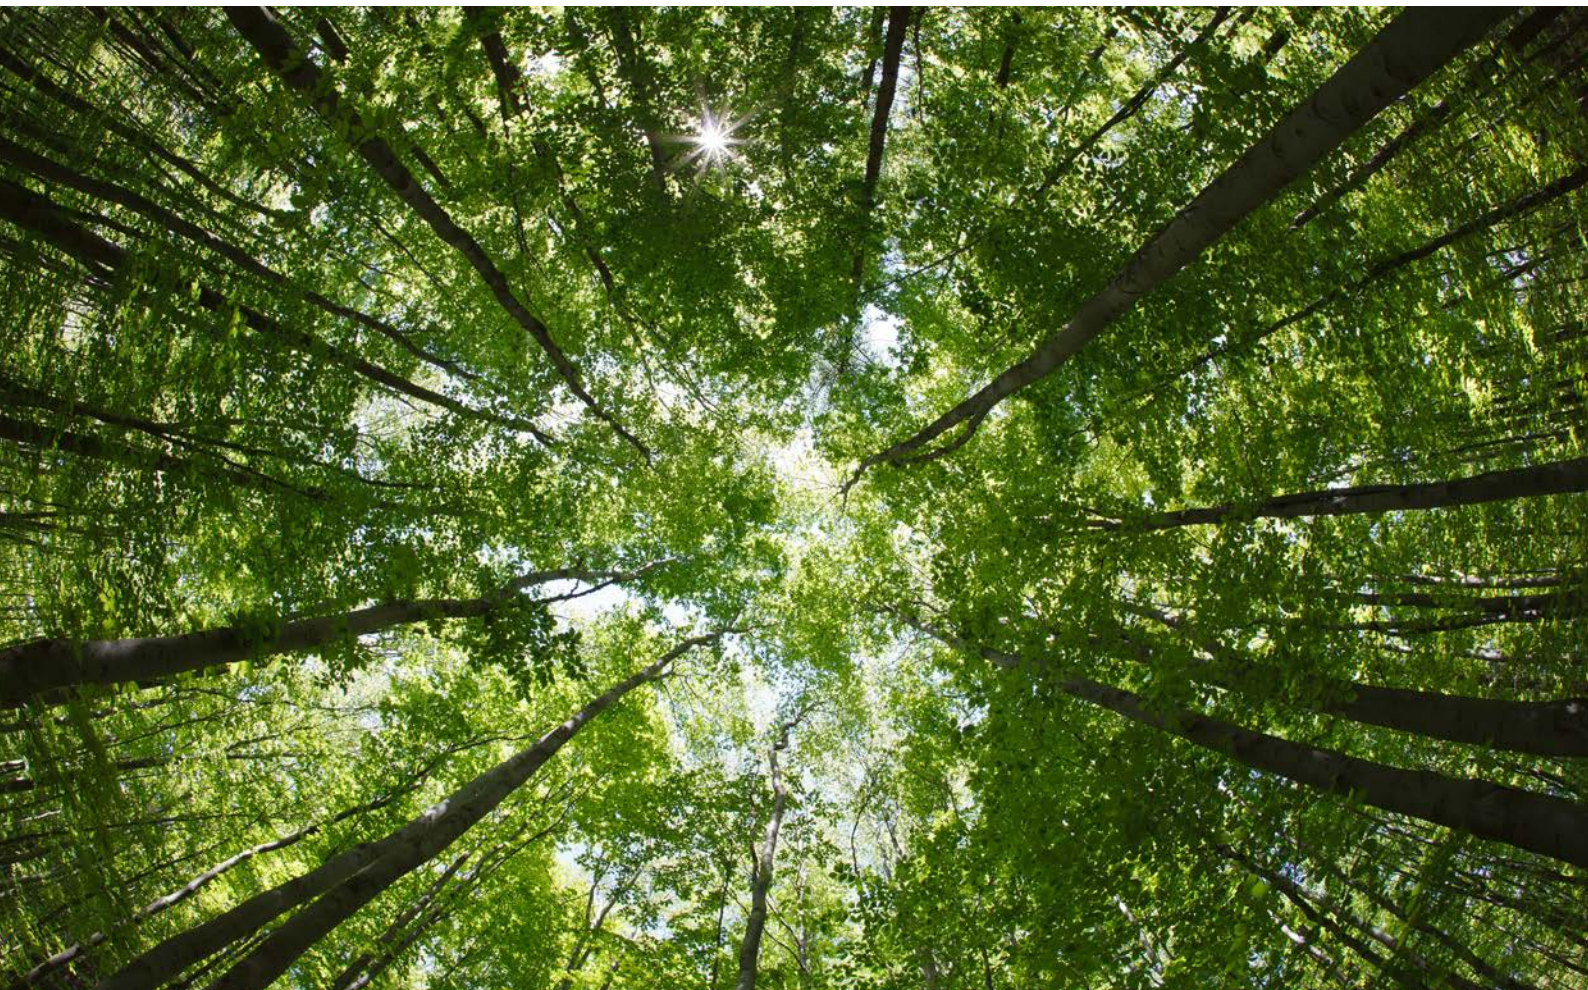

"We are delighted to have achieved registration to ISO 14001:2004. Gaining formal accreditation to this globally recognised standard serves to further underline our commitment to continually review and reduce the environmental impact of our activities. It also allows us to easily communicate our environmental objectives and credentials to clients and prospective customers."

Phil Newson Chief Executive.
