Plastic link grilles

Armalink 75 rolling grilles are made of tough plastic links and aluminium rods, forming an effective hard-wearing security solution. They are ideal for applications such as bars, counters and cabinets, to prevent pilferage.

The plastic links are available in a wide range of colours, creating a light and attractive grille with good vision and ventilation to protected areas.

For multiple installations these grilles are available with intermediate posts and 45° or 90° corners, which can be removable.

These grilles are available with a choice of motorised options but are often light enough to be easily operated manually, resulting in a cost-effective and simple solution which has the additional benefit of being easy to maintain.
