

MR & MRS BETTER TOGETHER

There are those couples you see and immediately think, "they're meant to be together."

The way one walks, while the other talks. The restraint of one, the playfulness of the other. The magic that happens when two become one...and yet don't lose who they are.

Our Mr & Mrs wingchairs capture this beautifully. Each has their own personality and distinguishing features, and yet seeing them together somehow feels 'right'.

Mr is taller, with broader shoulders. He has a solid wooden under frame, full seat and thicker wooden legs.

Mrs is more petite and curvaceous. She has less linear angles and more delicately turned legs.

We imagine Mr & Mrs having fireside chats deep into the night while the rest of the house is sound asleep.

MR & MRS THE MASTERS OF ELEGANCE

It takes a team to dress our Mr and Mrs armchairs.

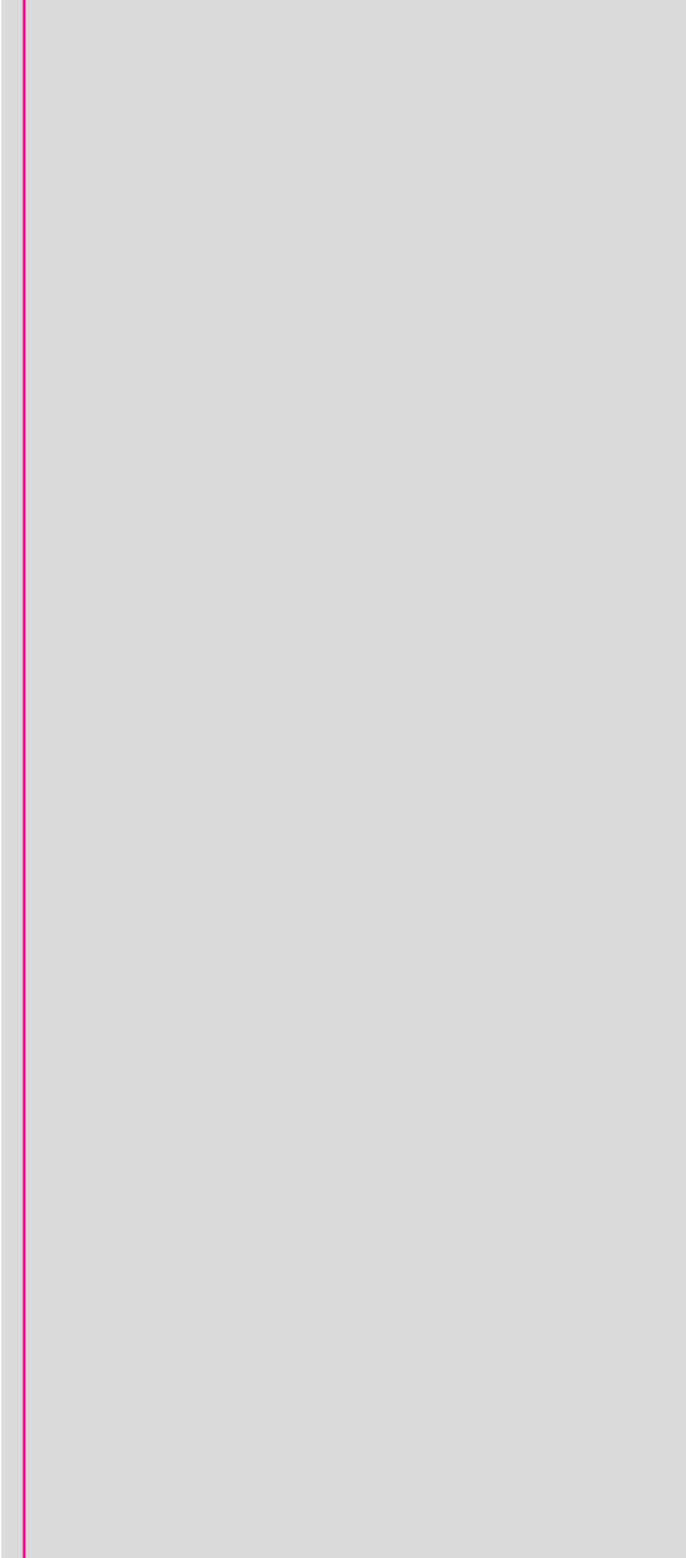

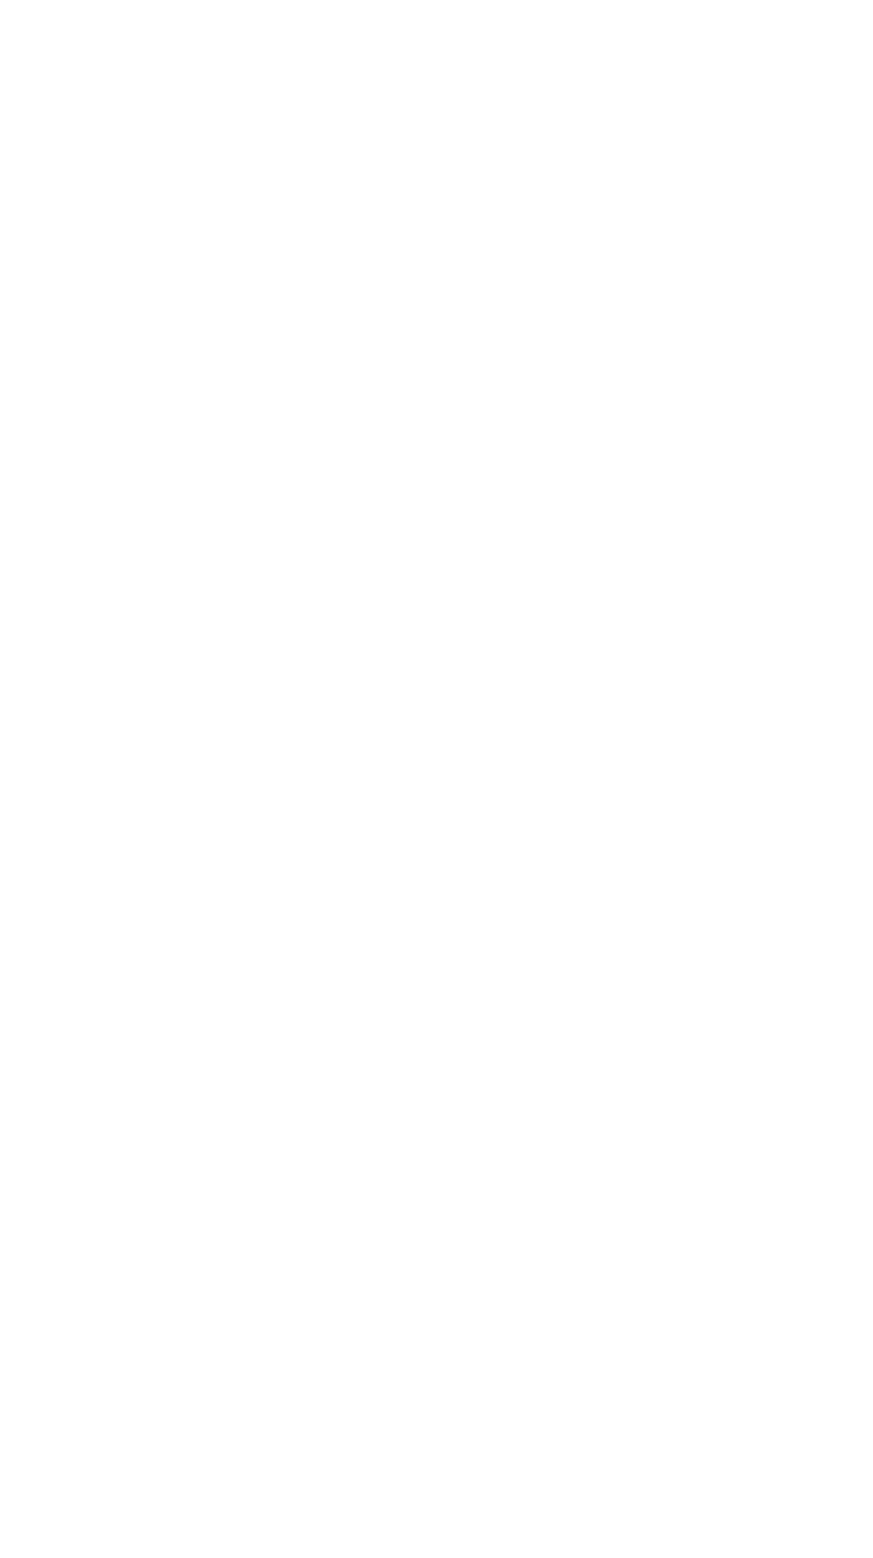

Our Mrs is like the Victorian lady, being helped by her dressers to don an evening gown. Our Mr is like the elegant businessman, patiently waiting for his tailors to get the fit of his suit just right.

In place of a fitted dress or tailored suit, our Mr and Mrs wear a precisely shaped coat consisting of six panels stitched together by our skilled seamstresses.

Our upholsterers are intimately familiar with the shape and contours of the chairs, knowing that each requires a personal touch to stretch the coat over the frame and fasten it with a hidden zip running down the back.

We think this hands-on, attention-to-detail approach is worth it. She is a lady, and he a gentleman, after all.

MR & MRS

Soft aesthetics and luxurious comfort make Mr & Mrs ideal for today's hospitality environments.

Designed to sit amiably alongside sofas and other furnishings, both chairs may be used as standalone pieces to make a bold design statement.
