

LATITUDE MAGNA PARK, MILTON KEYNES

OVERVIEW

Magna Park in Milton Keynes is one of the most extensive distribution parks in Europe, with buildings occupied by leading retailers such as Waitrose, John Lewis, River Island and Amazon.

Brandsafe have been involved in a number of projects at this particular logistics hub, with the Latitude development the most recent of these sites.

THE PROJECT

Latitude 186 (Plot 330) at Magna Park in Milton Keynes is a 186,443 sq. ft. logistics warehouse and distribution centre, ideally situated adjacent to the M1. Readie Construction were appointed by Gazeley to deliver this project, with Brandsafe brought in to provide the finishing touches on-site.

We used our consultative approach and industry expertise to make sure that this building was covered both internally and externally from an impact protection perspective.

THE SOLUTION

Inside the warehouse itself, Brandsafe supplied and installed a range of column protection. Our PolyWRAP Column Protectors were specific to provide impact protection for the 12.5 metre high columns in the main warehouse area.

Forklift Impact Skirts were added to these column protectors in order to further protect the warehouse, its people and its vehicles from impact damage.

Additionally, we also needed to safeguard the HGV Service Yard. Brandsafe achieved this by supplying and installing the required number of HGV Wheel Stops. The strength and high visibility of these wheel stops mean that pedestrians and vehicle drivers alike will benefit from their installation.

THE RESULT

A safer workplace, internally and externally, with sustainable and cost-effective impact protection systems provided. The occupier's building, staff and vehicles are now protected as a result of this work.
