SECURITY FOR LUXURY RETAIL OUTLET

Product: Stackdoor Corner

For this luxury watch retailer, internal security was important for a section of its new location. Incorporating security shutters presented a challenge given the layout of the property and the restrictions based on the listing of the building.

The 60 square-metre boutique on Glasgow's famous Buchanan Street is managed by the Watches of Switzerland Group. The retailer wanted a security measure that could adjust to the corner profile of the layout and also offer maximum visibility. Stackdoor's 82% free open area and ability to secure the corner profile without intermediate guides made it the product of choice.

The shutter was manufactured from stainless steel to ensure maximum security with the main grille, then powder coated in black to achieve both maximum visibility when lowered, and minimum visual impact when raised. The side guides were powder coated in gloss anthracite to match the loft apartment-design décor.

Featuring a small stacking zone at high level, corner adjustment and over 80% open area for visibility, the Stackdoor Corner catered to all requirements.
