Fundermax Trend-Decors

Trendy decors and surfaces with depth and charisma for the most modern design.

Concrete? Wood? Textiles? A high-quality Trend decor from Fundermax, inspired by the latest developments in interior design and developed together with renowned paper manufacturers and the Italian kitchen industry. Characterized by exclusivity, elegance and modernity.

SURFACES WITH NATURAL STRUCTURES AND MAGNETIC EFFECTS

What is trending internationally? Concrete optics have been very popular for some time. The typical mid-century style of terrazzo is coming back again. Metallic-looking surfaces as well as fabric-like textures can be found in the range of Fundermax Trend-decors. Above all, high-quality types of wood are the inspiration for many designs, from elegant grains to knotty patterns.

Concrete Decors for the Entire Interior

For some years now, the furniture industry has been unimaginable without concrete decors. Initially only used in the kitchen area, these decors can now be found in a wide variety of combinations throughout many interior designs.

Fundermax picked up on this trend and, together with a partner, developed a 100% exclusive Fundermax design:

Gypsum

Starting with a scratched concrete look, an attempt was made to create an elegant version, which on the one hand has a light material effect, and on the other hand can be perfectly combined with noble wood designs or high-contrast, rustic woods.

Metal Decors promise shimmering Highlights

The decor Peltro (3314) was also developed together with an Italian kitchen manufacturer: The aim was to create a full metal kitchen with a pewter effect in combination with rustic wood. Matera (3395) goes in a slightly darker direction. Making it the perfect match for oak and lacquer fronts.

Oak: A Rustic Yet Elegant Companion

Rovere Jazz (4038) is an elegant, rustic oak. Rustic because of the color contrast, elegant because it goes perfectly with upscale kitchen furnishings and provides a warm feeling in combination with cold colors such as pure white.

Rovere Portland (4064) and Rovere Newport (4073) come very close to natural oak.

Due to the elegant, medium natural wood color, these 2 decors are particularly suitable for furniture in the bedroom and living area. Rovere Newport (4073) is, among other things, the elegant version of Maryland Oak, the decor from the existing Fundermax Interior collection.

Walnut: Committed to Nobility

It is impossible to imagine the houses of Italian nobility without a walnut interior. With Noce Pavia (4035), Fundermax has developed a decor that expresses elegance, chic and beauty. Golden pearl effect is even used in the printing process to lend the decor the typical shimmer of real wood.

Eucalipto and Solid Colors as Calming Elements

When planning their projects, many architects like to use wood to provide an attractive accent. In addition to our solid colors 0747, 2289 and 2206, which appear minimalistic, warm and cozy, we also want to bring a naturally warm decor into play here. Eucalipto (4024) and Eucalipto Dark (4029) are very pure and very strict.

Terrazzo is Celebrating a Comeback

In the past, marble was often used as an elegant element in interior design. Terrazzo was almost completely forgotten. But for some time now, Terrazzo has been finding its interior-comeback, especially with upscale furniture manufacturers.

Terrazzo has very versatile characteristics and offers endless design possibilities that on the one hand are playful, and on the other hand very clean. Crazy colors or black and white, with large stones or small pebbles, every decor is truly unique.

Rolling Stones (4049) is cooler and grayer while Sorano (3396) is slightly warmer, but both are very elegant designs, with the latter matching especially well with solid colors and wood decors. Both decors can be found exclusively at Fundermax.

Surfaces: Natural Structures and Attractive Effects

Of course, the decors only make an impression if they can also be felt to the touch, in other words if they have the right surface properties to match the decor.

NICE (NI)

The idea of Nice is based on heat-treated wood. The design looks elegant because the stripes and small flames create a structured image. Nice has a calm look that goes very well with smooth and straight-lined nut, rustic oak and solid colors.

IMMAGO (IM)

In contrast, the Immago design is based on concrete formwork. The shading, scuff marks and grain of the tongue-shaped surfaces create a look that underlines the craftsmanship. Thanks to its warm note, Immago matches particularly well with concrete, textile and natural wood designs.

TEXTA (TE)

Unlike the other two smooth surfaces, the wood and textile-like decors of Texta are slightly deeper. Here, matt and glossy grooves create an impression of astonishing authenticity, especially in warm colors. Texta is the perfect solution for every interior design for wardrobes and dressers.

STRUKTURA (SU)

Struktura takes us even deeper, in that it not only depicts wood, but also has hints of a sophisticated pore structure. This gives it a special feel that comes into its own even in solid colors.

NATURA (NA)

Surface structures from Fundermax often appeal to the sense of touch, such as Natura, with its soft structure.

GRAFICA (GA)

Inspired by stone and concrete, Grafica boasts a slightly rough finish, enhancing any decor with its exceptional, gentle light refraction.
