

The Harbour of Leith has undergone a total transformation in recent years with millions of pounds being spent on housing, commercial developments, retail facilities, infrastructure and tourism. Today Leith looks great but for how long?

Many miles of barriers are to be erected, beginning with those shown in our pictures. The walkway is intended to enable residents and visitors to enjoy the views over the Firth of Forth. Sadly, due to the wrong specification these barriers are becoming a blot on Leith's Landscape. Bad specification will not only look unsightly but will cost more than ever envisaged.
