

Rocking and balancing activities can take place at both ends of Enif. At one end, the open triangle is a place for both wild and mild activity. At the opposite end, there is a rocking play shell that serves as a half-hidden place to cuddle into and disappear. It is a challenging journey to go through the Meteor Shower with its many ropes and multi-coloured orbs. There is only a single plate to hold on to - but even that plate sways back and forth. The player has to choose the perfect route by measuring risk and challenge.
