

PCM113200 Man-O-War

Themed play just got even better with this great ship. It's a stunning play equipment with outstanding play value on lower and upper deck. This allows everyone to play together. The manipulative and interactive components like e.g. the binocular, canons and chest ensure endless hours of role- and imaginative play, which support children's social/emotional and cognitive/creative development. In addition, these tactile activities support children's fine motor skills without knowing about it, as they are just having fun. Other activities make sure their physical development is supported too, when playing man aboard using the fireman's pole or walk the line with the Track ride.
