Specify in confidence

A decorative choice

- 43 high quality decors featuring classic, contemporary and distinctive designs to fulfil all your design aspirations.
- Most decors are available in door sheet size in High Pressure Laminate to achieve complete coordination between doors and partitions.

The Rey Partitions decorative panels can be used in conjunction with any specified system.

A safe choice

- The Class 0 and Euroclass B-s1, d0 classifications, together with a low calorific value ensures that Rey Partitions will meet and exceed many regulatory requirements including public areas. Rey Partitions doesn't contribute to fire propagation and no black smoke or toxic gases are produced whilst burning.
- The negligible formaldehyde emissions of Rey Partitions (0.02g/m^2 per year) makes it the lowest on the market.
- With an A+ classification, Rey Partitions achieves the lowest VOC emission rating therefore contributing to a safer interior environment.

Aesthetic & Acoustic

A conscientious choice

- The plaster used in the manufacturing of Rey Partitions originates from Gypsum quarries. These quarries operate to optimal environmental standards in their manufacturing processes.
- We achieved the ISO 14001 Environmental Management System certification.
- The gypsum core can be extracted and recycled back into the manufacturing of plasterboard.

A quieter choice

- Rey Partitions' key benefit is a higher density (9.4kg/m^2) compared to a normal plasterboard (average of 8kg/m^2) therefore helps to achieve the desired acoustic attenuation of 40dB when forming part of a Partition system.

A durable choice

- Our melamine surface is impact, abrasion and stain resistant (Coffee, Felt-tip pen etc.). The superior performance it achieves on impact testing is testament to the quality of its gypsum core, compared to its PVC & Vinyl counterparts.
