

Logitech GROUP Kit (dedicated video collaboration)

Logitech and Intel have teamed up to leverage the powerful features of Logitech GROUP, the performance of Intel® NUC, the content-sharing capabilities enabled by Intel Unite™, and the one-click simplicity of Illuminari QuickLaunchSE. Video collaboration has never been easier.

The Logitech Group Kit with Intel NUC is configured and validated for performance and compatibility with VC applications, such as Skype for Business. The standard solution is ideal for meetings with up to 14 participants, and 20 participants with the optional extension mics.

The system provides a robust, easy-to-use video conferencing solution that is easy-to-buy and affordable for every room.

- High quality audio
- 1080p HD video, ideal for leading
- Wireless keyboard
- Optional expansion mics

 View the video on our YouTube channel: Logitech hassle free video meetings

Illuminari Quicklaunch SE software allows you to Instantly start or join a meeting with one-click/one-touch application. This fully configurable and simplified user interface brings appliance-like ease-of-use to the meeting room, minimizing the need for user training or IT support.

