

OAK FORUM COLLECTION

The Forum range comprises of a series of rich and varied colours from cool greys with blue undertones, through to warm and delicious chocolaty browns.

A slow process of applying multiple, natural chemicals which react within the timber, produces a stunning floor with various tones and gorgeous highlights. The subtle chalky finishes of the Forum range truly define the current timber flooring trends.

As with most of our floors Forum is compatible with under-floor heating and fully acoustic compliant. These floors are available in wide board planks, herringbone or chevron, engineered or traditional solid.
